

Medical Informatics Europe MIE 2009

Sarajevo, Bosnia and Herzegovina

30 August to 2 September 2009

The Medical Informatics Europe (MIE) Conference is the main scientific event in medical, biomedical, and health informatics, held every two years out of three in Europe. Scientific presentations are from more than 40 countries and all continents. Its attendance is around 500–1000 participants especially from 32 European member countries of the European Federation for Medical Informatics (EFMI). The MIE 2009 conference will be held in Sarajevo, Bosnia and Herzegovina, from 30 August until 2 September 2009.

AIMS AND SCOPE

The main theme of MIE 2009 is MEDICAL INFORMATICS IN A UNITED AND HEALTHY EUROPE. New medical, biomedical, and health informatics bridges must be built between the western and eastern parts of the European world. For this purpose, a panel of high-level scientists and health care managers will be invited to participate and give keynote speeches, tutorials, and organise in-depth workshop discussions.

TOPICS FOR MIE 2009

Bioinformatics	Knowledge-based systems
Biosignal processing	Modelling and simulation
Decision support	National eHealth roadmaps
Devices and sensors	Nursing informatics
Disease management	Pan European-cross border applications
Electronic health record	Patient safety
Expert systems	Personal health records
Guidelines and protocols	Pervasive healthcare
Health information systems	Privacy and security
Home-based eHealth	Public health and consumer informatics
